Re: United States v. Paul Semplice
Criminal Docket No. 17-612 (PKC)

Dear Judge Chen:

The government writes in accordance with the Court's April 8, 2019 Order concerning John Doe #1 and the Crime Victims' Rights Act ("CVRA") notification. After filing of the April 8 Order, the government reviewed the information maintained by the Office for CVRA notification and learned that although John Doe #2's information was included, the government had inadvertently failed to include John Doe #1's notification information.¹ As a result, while John Doe #2 received CVRA notification of the defendant's sentencing, John Doe #1 did not. The government has corrected this error.

Additionally, on April 8, 2019, the government spoke to John Doe #1's counsel, Jeffrey Einhorn, Esq. to discuss John Doe #1's position on the imposition of the No-Contact Condition being considered by the Court and as to restitution. Mr. Einhorn advised the government that John Doe #1 does not want the No-Contact Condition to be imposed and informed the government that John Doe #1 does not seek restitution.

¹ The government did inform John Doe #1 of the prosecution and was in direct contact with John Doe #1's lawyer during earlier phases of the case.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD P. DONOGHUE
United States Attorney
